Session on Stock Market

Report

Date: February 10, 2024

Time: 8:00 AM to 9:30 AM

Venue: T-1 Classroom

Participants: 61 students from SYBAF & FYBAF

Session Taken By - Asst. Prof. Ashutosh Sharma

Objective:

The primary objective of the Stock Market Session organized by the Accounting and Finance Department at JVM's Mehta Degree College was to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of the functioning of the stock market. The session aimed to enhance their knowledge about stock trading, investment strategies, and the role of financial markets in the economy. Additionally, it sought to familiarize students with practical aspects of stock market analysis and decision-making.

Importance:

- The session aimed to supplement the academic curriculum by offering students practical insights into the world of stock markets.
- Hands-on experience helps bridge the gap between theory and real-world application, making their learning more holistic.
- Understanding the dynamics of the stock market is crucial for students pursuing Accounting and Finance.
- Session provided valuable insights that can benefit them in their future careers, especially if they plan to work in financial institutions, investment firms, or related industries.
- The session aimed to improve students' financial literacy, empowering them to make informed decisions about investments, personal finance, and economic trends.

Outcome:

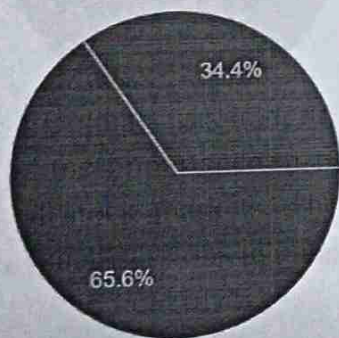

The session successfully enhanced students' understanding of various concepts related to the stock market, such as stock trading, investment analysis, risk management, and market trends. Students were exposed to practical scenarios and case studies, allowing them to apply theoretical knowledge to real-world situations. This hands-on experience contributes to their ability to make informed financial decisions. Post-session feedback from students indicated a positive response, with many expressing gratitude for the opportunity to learn from industry experts. The interactive nature of the session was particularly appreciated. The session served as a motivation for students to explore further studies in finance and related fields. It sparked interest in financial markets and investment strategies, encouraging them to delve deeper into the subject.

Conclusion, the Stock Market Session organized by the Accounting and Finance Department at JVM's Mehta Degree College was a significant success. It fulfilled its objectives of educating students, emphasizing the importance of financial literacy, and providing practical insights into the dynamic world of stock markets. The positive outcomes and feedback from participants highlight the value of such sessions in enriching the academic experience and preparing students for future challenges in the field of Accounting and Finance.
