Rules for Fighting Fires

Fires can be very dangerous. Hence make sure we will not risk ourselves or others when attempting to put out a fire.

When a fire is discovered...

1. Assist any person in immediate danger to safety. If it can be accomplished without risk to our self.
2. Know what is burning. If you don't know what's burning, you won't know what kind of extinguisher to use.
3. The time to use an extinguisher is at the beginning stages of the fire. If the fire is spreading rapidly beyond the point where it started, then it is better to simply evacuate the building. As you evacuate a building, close doors and windows behind you. This will help to slow the spread of smoke and fire.
4. Call 101 or activate the building fire alarm. The fire alarm will notify the fire department and other building occupants and shut off the air handling (A.C.) system to prevent the spread of smoke.
